You can register now, to take advantage of this offer, and start the course when it suits you, even in 2021. If you have any questions, simply get back to us and we'd be happy to help.

The two courses are taught by Professor Lawrence Sherman, pioneer of evidence-based policing, with the support of other notable experts, including Professor Jerry Ratcliffe and Cambridge scholars. The course includes interactive videos which actually test your knowledge. You will also have an assessment at the end of the course to ensure you earn your certificate.
